Archaeo Café at Ozone Pizza Pub

Can archaeology tell us how battles were won or lost? Join the talk to find out!

PENSACOLA— July 5, 2016- The Destination Archaeology Resource Center and Ozone Pizza Pub are hosting Archaeo Café on Thursday, July 21 beginning at 6:30 p.m. Janene Johnston will present her research on battlefield archaeology at the Civil War site of Natural Bridge. Her presentation will be followed by an open discussion. No expertise required to join in.

Archaeo Café is held inside Ozone Pizza Pub. It is free and open to the community. Seating is unreserved and limited to 55 guests. The talk starts at 6:30 p.m. and guests are recommended to show up by 5:30 p.m. to receive food and drink orders before the talk begins. Ozone Pizza Pub is located at 1010 N 12th Ave. in Pensacola.

At Archaeo Café guests can order food, drinks and participate in a casual and relaxed environment. No lecture halls; just interesting archaeology conversation. This event is hosted by the Florida Public Archaeology Network, Destination Archaeology Resource Center, University of West Florida Division of Anthropology and Archaeology, WGBH Science Unit, and Ozone Pizza Pub.
